Evens Prize for Peace Education 2011

New Evens Prize for Peace Education won by the Escola de Cultura de Pau

The Escola de Cultura de Pau (ECP), Barcelona has won the first Evens Prize for Peace Education which involved 26 projects from 10 EU countries. The ECP was awarded the prize for its teacher training in conflict management, organized in the framework of its peace-education program. On 18th March 2011, the ECP was selected as the prize laureate by an independent jury of experts from a shortlist of 10 organizations. The prize money will be shared between the award-winner and dissemination of the winning training program.

2011 Evens Prize jury members were: Tomas Baum (Belgium), Director of the Flemish Peace Institute, jury chair; Peter Adriaenssens (Belgium), Child psychiatrist and senior lecturer, Catholic University Leuven (KUL); Nadia Bellaoui (France), National Secretary of La Ligue de l'Enseignement; Magdalena Boguslawska (Poland), Director of the Centre for Development of Polish Education abroad; Maria Carme Boqué Torremorell (Spain), Lecturer at the Department of Education, Ramon Llull University, Barcelona; Ilse Hakvoort (Sweden), Lecturer at the Department of Education, Gothenburg University; Philippe Vienne (Belgium), Professor at the Department of Sociology, UMon (University of Mons).

The award ceremony will take place in Barcelona on 20th September 2011, the eve of the International Day of Peace.

About the Evens Prize for Peace Education 2011

Through this prize, the Evens Foundation wishes to honor an organization, association or institution that offers training programs to (future) teachers on learning how to manage interpersonal and/or intergroup conflict in a positive and constructive way. In this respect, learning is considered to be a process of personal change, in the sense that how we learn is as important as the content of that learning.

Evens Prize for Visual Arts 2011

Sven Augustijnen receives the Evens Prize for Visual Arts 2011

The work of the Belgian visual artist Sven Augustijnen expands and undermines the traditional codes of documentary practice and questions the narratives underlying current political and social practices. The artist was selected as the recipient of the award by an independent jury which chose from a list of 20 internationally acclaimed artists, nominated by representatives of major European art institutions.

2011 Evens Prize jury members were: Nicolaus Schafhausen, Witte de With, Rotterdam; Marc-Olivier Wahler, Palais de Tokyo, Paris; Maria Ines Rodriguez, Musac, Leon; Dorian van der Brempt, deBuren, Brussels; Joana Mytkowska, Museum of Modern Art, Warsaw. President of the Jury: Ernest Van Buynder, Evens Foundation's Board Member and former Chairman of MuHKA in Antwerp.

The public presentation of the Evens Prize for Visual Arts 2011 will take place on 17 October 2011 at Centre Pompidou, in Paris. The solo show of the artist featuring his new project «Spectres» is programmed at Wiels Center for Contemporary Art in Brussels, from 8th May to 31st July 2011.

About the Evens Arts Prize

The Evens Foundation awards the Evens Arts Prize every two years. With this prize, the Foundation promotes European artists whose work expresses in an exceptional and artistic way one of the domains in which the Foundation is active.
